City and County Battle Over Who'll Cut Lawn

GARY, Ind., Oct. 2 (U.P.)—The city parks of Gary are feuding with county officials over who will cut the courthouse lawn.

The courthouse is set in the center of the city and when the county officials let the weeds and grass grow tall and brown, the park district sees them under protest.

"We can't let the city get a bad name because the county won't keep their lots tidy," said W. O. Ladd, park superintendent. "But next time I'm going to let the weeds grow till they hide the courthouse."

The county commissioners shrug their shoulders and appropriate no money for gardening implements.

HOLLISTER, Oct. 2.—Two Hollister city officials returned home Friday from a hunting trip in Northern California—with one deer.

City Councilman Edward A. Cushman returned empty handed, reporting that "the big one got away," but his hunting partner, City Police Lt. Osborne M. Thompson brought home a 200 pound buck with a fine set of antlers—eight points on one side and six on the other.
