A. H. SABIN PASSES AWAY

Alvah Horton Sabin, consulting chemist for National Lead Company from 1910 until his retirement in 1938, passed away in the Flushing Hospital, Flushing, L. I., on July 11. He is survived by two sons, Mrs. Sabin having died six years ago.

Dr. Sabin was a graduate of Bowdoin College in the class of 1876. Following his graduation, he taught chemistry and physics at Ripon College and later was in the Chemistry Department at the University of Vermont. He received his Master of Science degree from Bowdoin in 1879 and his Doctor of Science degree in 1917. He was at one time chemist for the state of Vermont, and, prior to joining National Lead Company, was affiliated with Edward Smith & Co., New York, manufacturers of varnish.

Dr. Sabin was the author of many books and technical articles. He lectured in a number of leading schools including New York University, University of Michigan, Purdue University and Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He was an original member of the Chemist Club of New York, and had served as vice-president, director and member of the council of the American Chemical Society.

W. C. DOREMUS, ATLANTIC, DIES

Wallace C. Doremus, member of the sales department of the Atlantic branch, died at his home in Dobbs Ferry, N. Y. on July 7 following a heart attack. He was 64 years old. His widow and two brothers survive.

Mr. Doremus joined the Carter White Lead Co. as a salesman in 1914. Following consolidation of the Carter and National Lead Company sales staffs in 1929, he was transferred to the Atlantic branch promotion department. Three years later, he became a member of the sales staff.

CINCINNATI REPRESENTATIVE DIES

Howard Noel, technical representative for the Cincinnati branch, died suddenly in Louisville, Ky., on June 27. He was 42 years old.

Mr. Noel, who joined the Company in 1937, was a graduate of the University of Kentucky. He is survived by his widow and two brothers.
