Dr. G. H. Gehrman,
E. I. du Pont Company,
Wilmington, Delaware.

Dear Howard:

I am sending you herewith a copy of a report of our experimental observations completed quite some time ago on dichlorodifluoromethane. I was finally able to get this released from its classification as confidential, and although it still cannot be copied or reprinted or published, I am able to make the information available to you for such application to industry as may be useful and necessary. I have sent a copy to John Foulger, and have suggested to him as I do to you, that the information ought to be made available to Mr. Porch or to some other person or persons in Kinetic Chemicals if Mr. Porch is not the right one. I leave it entirely to you to see that the information goes to the proper place. The people engaged in the manufacture and the distribution of this product ought to know that such results as those indicated in the report can be expected under suitable conditions. I am sure that they do not know this and that it ought to be brought to their attention. If I can be of any further help to you or to them, I hope you will let me know.

Sincerely yours,

Robert A. Kehoe, M. D.
