Q And --

A The proportions varied depending on the slurrying characteristics.

Q What about the insulation block that you described? Did that contain both types?

A As I said earlier, all products contained both types of asbestos.

Q And would you have any knowledge as to the sources of that asbestos?

A The chrysotile asbestos was obtained from most of the United States' Canadian sources then in existence.

As I remember them, they were Johns-Manville, National Gypsum, and Ruberoid.

The amosite asbestos was purchased from these sources as I remember them. Union Asbestos and Rubber, Turner & Newall, Cape Asbestos, and various asbestos brokers.

Q And the name of the insulation block was Kaylo?

A Kaylo.
