Subject: Connect with Key Players in Connected Vehicles

The future of mobility engineering is here, and it's connected.

Establish your technological expertise and get your products, solutions and innovations in front of key players in the science and technology of connected vehicles at the 2018 Automated and Connected Vehicle Systems Testing Symposium.

Presented by SAE International, hosted by CU-ICAR, this inaugural event is your exclusive opportunity to gain exposure to a qualified audience of buyers and influencers looking to establish regulations, devise new methodologies and build new paradigms to address the top challenges of automated vehicles. Take advantage of this opportunity to connect with the companies that are driving the automotive industry forward.
