
In about 1941 still in the Mellon Institute as a fellowship that name was changed to the Industrial Hygiene Foundation of America, Incorporated.

In 1970 after leaving the Mellon Institute the name was changed to Industrial Health Foundation, Incorporated.

Q. During those three periods under different names, was the business and functioning of the foundation substantially the same?

A. Substantially the same. It expanded throughout the years, but it was substantially the same.

Q. Have you in the scope and course of your duties as president of the Industrial Health Foundation reviewed the charter, by-laws and membership requirements throughout the years of the foundation?

A. Yes, I have.

Q. In that connection are the articles of incorporation, code of regulations and by-laws of the foundation documents that you have personally reviewed?
