Tate,

The plans are progressing well. Invitations to the round table and tour are being sent now.

The plan at this point is as follows:

8:30 -- begin tour. Participants will meet at the east doors of the Capitol to load into vans and depart for Snyderville Basin. The Governor and Administrator will travel separately with security.

9:20 -- Meet at Bittner Ranch for overview of tour. We have three stops planned in close proximity. No walking required. We will be sending a detailed itinerary with Google map views of the sites, photos and a brief description of the sites.

10:15 -- Leave Snyderville Basin to return to the Capitol

10:45 -- Arrive at State Capitol

11:00 -- Meeting with Governor and senior staff in the Governor's Conference Room (among other things, we'd like to discuss Gold King Mine (with Attorney General Sean Reyes), regional haze, and the Tribal NSR FIP.)

12:00 -- Lunch and round table meeting in the Capitol Board Room. After the Administrator's opening remarks, Erica Gaddis (Director, Division of Water Quality) will give a very brief overview of Utah-specific WOTUS issues, followed by discussion as directed by the Administrator.

1:30 -- Media availability

2:00-- Wrap up
