

Caution: This email originated from outside EPA, please exercise additional caution when deciding whether to open attachments or click on provided links.

Please take a few moments to review what the environment was like in the 60s - did you know actual rivers caught on fire? That entire communities came down with cancer? That it was impossible to see the skylines of NYC or Chicago due to the thick air pollution? I was alive in the 60s and was very grateful when Richard Nixon started the EPA. It has done wonders for the health of Americans. It is one way that we are better off healthwise than German cities with constant particulate levels of concern. So, I am pleading with you to consider your own health and the health of any people you may love, especially children who were the most hurt by the previous high levels of pollutants in our environment. Do not defund or rewrite regulations that are keeping us safe from toxins.

Thank you,  Ex. 6 Personal Privacy (PP)