KENTUCKY DERBY.

ALARD SCHECK THE FAVORITE.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

LOUISVILLE (Ky.) April 29.—In the Kentucky Derby tomorrow it is thought to be certain that Alard Scheck will be first choice in the betting, and His Eminence second choice, and many turf followers tonight say that the chances that the finish will find these two horses in the same position as the betting. The Tennessee crowd will back Scheck heavily, especially the Memphis part of it, and Lexington and the bluegrass contingent are said to be ready to bet a fortune on Sanazaro, who by some is thought to have quite a chance.

Cincinnati has arranged to send two trainloads, and Indianapolis, St. Louis and Chicago will be well represented. The entries and jockeys follow: Alard Scheck (Henry.) Sanazaro (O'Connor.)
