

1 of the case and keep a few things in mind about my
2 client, that they got out of the business in 1958,
3 that they were aware of the medical and scientific
4 literature, that they read it, and that they employed
5 an industrial hygienist who advised them.

6 They tested their product at a preeminent
7 facility, and they published the results. And they
8 made certain conclusions about the products that you
9 are going to hear through my evidence.

10 Again, I would like to thank you for being
11 here with us for the next few weeks and for your
12 attention this afternoon.

13 Thank you, Your Honor.

14 THE COURT: Thank you, Ms. Tostanoski.

15 Mr. Doub, please.

16 MR. DOUB: Good afternoon.

17 THE JURY: Good afternoon.
