Q You also have on your board the Hickish and Knight study; is that correct, sir?

A Yes, that is 1968 or '70 something, I think.

Q That is represented by number 7 on your board; is that correct?

A I believe it was, yes.

Q And number 7 indicates a TWA of .68, and that is on the entire work shift.

And that is a Ford dealer in Greater London area; is that correct, sir?

A In London, yes.

Q And I will show you what is page 21, and, in fact, that study states at the end, our environmental studies have not included maintenance procedures which involve the filing or grinding of brake lining material.

And we would envision that these would give rise to considerably increased air contaminants by chrysotile asbestos with the intended need for strict precaution to prevent inhalation of fibers.
