Subject: Journalist doing a story on implementation of Lautenberg law
To: daguillard.robert@epa.gov

Many public health advocates are concerned that EPA is not committed to the new law, and charge that new deputy director Nancy Beck's close ties to the ACC will jeopardize the agency's ability to regulate toxic chemicals. I wanted to give the EPA the opportunity to respond either by email or through a phone interview.

I am writing the story for the online news site, whowhatwhy.org.

My deadline is COB Tuesday. Best way to reach me is via email [REDACTED] Ex. 6 [REDACTED] If you'd like me to call, please let me know what date and time work for you.

Thank you for your help in this matter

Best, Celia Wexler
