

made available for inspection at the office of defendant's counsel;

- (h) Boxes or labels with the name "GM Parts" and the colors black and aqua on white have been used since 1974. In addition to the brand name, the box or a label contains a part number, noun name, quantity, and catalog group. The box may also contain a boxmaker's certificate and box number;
- (i) Not applicable;
- (j) Yes, for current containers;
- (k) For assemblies with linings manufactured by General Motors, yes. For others, no.

IV. DISC BRAKE PAD AND SHOE ASSEMBLIES (No. 8, 1(a), 1(b), and 1(c))

- (a) Disc brake pad and shoe assemblies with brand names Delco (1966-present) or GM Parts (1969-present);
- (b) (i) 1966;
 - (ii) Not applicable;
 - (iii) Not applicable;
- (c) For GM pads, see response to No. 7, II(c). The precise content of parts manufactured by others is unknown to General Motors. It is known industry practice, however, to utilize chrysotile asbestos in comparable amounts;
- (d) The assembly consists of a pad and steel shoe. For suppliers, see response to No. 9, II(d);
- (e) For pads manufactured by other defendants, this information is unknown to General Motors;
- (f) The chrysotile asbestos provides suitable friction, strength, binding, stability, and other characteristics required to obtain proper performance of a vehicle braking system;