I left in the fall, I think, of 1973.

Q Where did you go to work?

A I accepted a position as Senior Research Toxicologist for General Motors Research Corporation in Warren, Michigan.

Q Okay. Did you ever return to academics?

A Yes, sir. I went and I accepted a position as Associate Professor of Toxicology at the University of Texas School of Public Health in Houston, Texas, in 1976.

Q And is that how you wound back up or you wound up in Houston?

A Yes, sir.

Q Okay. Were you teaching in that job?

A Yes, sir. Teaching was about the same as it had been at Ohio State, but there were more graduate students rather than just physicians, although there were physicians and other health physicians associated with that training.

Q Okay. Did you eventually change jobs at the University of Texas?
