Good Morning, Mandy!

I hope this message finds you and your family faring well in all this pandemic-induced disruption. Congratulations on your new role at EPA! I imagine this must be a difficult time, given all the remote working conditions.

I wanted to share with you some of the details of Chevron's own internal transition. We're experiencing some significant changes of our own. We've combined our Federal and International government affairs teams into one. Melissa Shute is the manager of that combined team. We have also shifted portfolio responsibilities among the team. With Puneet's departure, I will be picking up climate issues and their related regulatory matters.

Given these changes, please let me know whether you have any questions regarding Chevron's activities, positions – anything at all. I may not have an answer at my finger-tips, but I will endeavor to get you any information you might need. I very much look forward to working with you and wish you every success in your new role! In addition to this e-mail address, my mobile number (Ex. 6 Personal) is the best way to reach me anytime. Warmest regards, Jay

Mandy,

The pleasure was entirely mine (ok, and of course Puneet's as well!) It was great to meet you and look forward to staying in touch. A trip to Oxford is on my bucket list, especially for football. Very happy our two teams are in the same conference, but not rivals. Very best regards, Jay

Jay,

I enjoyed meet you tonight and Puneet, it was great to see you (as always). Let me know if I can help with anything, especially a trip to Oxford, MS, for football season. I still can't believe you haven't already done this. #hottytoddy

I look forward to staying in touch.

Best,

Mandy
