Dear Ron:

I have reviewed the VDC Work Practice Guideline and you and your group should be complimented on the very excellent job.

With reference to John McDonough's comments, I think they are well founded and while they are more safety oriented than health, the extra warning is worthy of mentioning in the work practice. It is a subtle type of hazard for which the worker should be informed.

I would like to see MCA get this published because it is a fine piece of work. I will not comment on the numbers incorporated in the permissible exposure limits.

Very truly yours,

Zeb G. Bell, Jr.
