Educational Tour

National Broadcasting Gives Television Show.

Since the National Broadcasting company inaugurated a practical demonstration of television, understandable to the layman, as part of its 70-minute tour of the giant NBC Radio City, Hollywood, an ever increasing number of persons have been passing through the turnstiles.

Not only is the NBC tour one of the most popular sight-seeing attractions in southern California, but it also represents a definite educational laboratory on highly scientific radio and its newest child, television.

The television demonstration includes the actual televing of members of each tour party. Cost of the tour is only forty-cents per person.

Dr. Carl Landauer, professor of economics at the university, will speak at the dinner meeting on "After the War, What?"
Native of Germany, Dr. Land-auer taught for many years in Berlin schools before coming to California.

Dr. Lawrence Foster, retiring president, will conduct the meeting. Mrs. A. R. Wright is in charge of reservations.
