Gentlemen:

It was agreed at our recent meeting that it would be wise to meet the day before the U. S. Bureau of Mines Symposium to coordinate the strategy of the members of the group in their presentations to the Symposium. This is to be done simply to avoid repetition of presentation. In accordance with the agreement, the North Room at the Mayflower Hotel in Washington has been hired for 2 P.M., May 7th, through the good offices of the American Mining Congress.

I would very much appreciate it if those who will not be attending this meeting let me know as soon as possible. Also, if your Company will be sending others than the people listed above, would you kindly let me have their names. The room will be set up to accommodate 25 people and I will need to know whether this is sufficient within the next week or ten days.

Sincerely yours,

R. C. Bacon, Assistant to the President
