Hi Ester,

Thanks for the introduction. Transition activities are consuming all of my time at the moment. Given that I am only operating in a temporary capacity right now, I plan to defer your request until we are able to identify an appropriate spokesman to address your interests and questions.

James,

I am a reporter with Politico and I write about Interior energy, environment and public land issues and I wanted to introduce myself and see if you'd be willing to chat sometime about the priorities of Interior going forward.

Thanks, Esther
