In a discussion with Dr. Craighead, I gathered that he had apparently submitted a prospective study outline to Mr. Miller. He will write us giving an outline of a retrospective type study.

It is suggested that when we have met with Mr. Miller we will be able to identify what action to take with Craighead. The concept is submitted that Craighead and colleagues should maintain an on-going retrospective and prospective study of at least our mine - not all talc mines, in Vermont.
