break that they also intend to publish to the jury certain documents in conjunction with that reading.

I have no objection to some of the documents, but I have objection to four of them, Your Honor, and three specifically. O-I-OCF-44, O-I-OCF-27, and OCF-59.

Your Honor these are what is known as Saranac Lake documents which are from the 1940s through 1952.

Throughout the deposition Mr. Thomas is asked has he ever received them, he says no. He is asked does he ever remember reading them back then and he says no.

Basically all of the questions asked are well, wouldn't you like to have seen this, wouldn't you like to have done this with these things and he says yeah, I guess.

The bottom line is that he never received them, he never read them and, therefore, I think it is objectionable and irrelevant what he thinks should have been done and not have been done.
