Hi [REDACTED]

Thank you for the feedback that [REDACTED] has left the EA, we will update our records. Please feel free to share the original email with your colleagues at the EA. We have sent a similar email to our site inspector and a few other in the EA PFAS team. The commitment is public even if it is not publicised to widely yet.

For information, I will also have a change at the end of the year as I will leave AGCCE to take up a role with a regulatory consulting company [REDACTED]

Subject: AGC Chemicals Europe, Ltd - Signatory to European PFAS Responsible Manufacturing Programme

Dear [REDACTED]

As you will know, AGC has committed to further reducing PFAS emissions from our fluoropolymer manufacturing processes, and we have been working with the wider industry to establish an industry wide agreement on non-polymeric PFAS emissions.

We are pleased to announce that AGC Chemicals Europe, Ltd. as a member of the Fluoropolymer Products Group (FPG) has been directly involved in the creation of, and are signatories to, the industry Manufacturing Programme for European Manufacturing sites. This is a voluntary commitment aimed at reducing PFAS emissions, and it sets specific targets for all signatories to reach by the end of next year, and the end of 2030.

The programme is aligned with existing business objectives of AGC Chemicals Europe, Ltd. The full document is attached.

Please let us know if you have any additional questions.

With kind regards,
