

James J. Roder B2S J

December 8, 1971

C. Paton/D.E. Roush

EPA & OFFSHORE INDUSTRY

W.B. Papageorge
B2N K

Some time ago we received a report that the EPA had contacted Tenneco regarding their use of PCB material as a heat transfer fluid in offshore platforms. Do you think that the EPA would tell you which oil companies have been contacted, who they contacted, and their impression about the future use of PCB material?

We could use this information in promoting Therminol 66 as a replacement both for new and existing systems.

James J. Roder

lb

TNGS 004234

PLAINTIFF'S EXHIBIT

217
10-26-85 Or