a village and did so. J. C. Leach and here who went up from here with the ention of remaining at the springs r several weeks, were told that their essence there was not wanted, at least r the time being.
It is said that three representatives of e government recently arrived at the rings to take charge of the move-ent and it is known that representa-es of the government have been at RK at the new home of the Indiana r several weeks, preparing for their caption.

While some stories have been sent it that the Indians would not be oved without trouble the govern-ent representatives do not admit to anything particularly serious. The idians naturally cling to the homes ey have had for years, but most of e leaders among them understand at their right to remain was not and on justice to others and that the ovement somewhere was inevitable. hey also understand that the commission in whom they as well as the overnment has implicit confidence, has hosen the best possible location for hem. They regret the inevitable but hey understand that it is inevitable.

ion of the big tent which will house he 2,000 young people to be here as legates to the convention is June. Mr.
R. R. Delburn, as chairman of the committee, asks all who have plain rees to defer trimming them until the latter part of May so that the com-tee will be able to get them for the decorations. They would like to have those who can furnish them notify Mr.
Delburn, and a rig will be sent for the plans. The committee will also ask the business men to decorate to some extent on account of the large number of people to be here. The colors of the convention will be purple and gold.

TWO VAGRANTS ARRAIGNED.

Judge Thorp had two vagrants before him yesterday morning, both of whom were arrested for begging at the coffee club on E. between Fourth and Fifth streets. One of them, W. K. Brown, took twenty-four hours to plead and will come up again this morning; while the other, G. N. Floyd, plead "not guilty" and his trial was set for Saturday at 2 o'clock.

This Company has decided to encourage the sidewalking, curbing and paving of
