Subject: To Liz Bowman

Dear Ms. Bowman,

As a member of the general public and a mother of two, I was disgusted by a quote you recently submitted to the New York Times in response to legitimate questions related to the regulation of dangerous chemicals:

“No matter how much information we give you, you would never write a fair piece,” Liz Bowman, a spokeswoman for the E.P.A., said in an email. “The only thing inappropriate and biased is your continued fixation on writing elitist clickbait trying to attack qualified professionals committed to serving their country.”

You are a government employee. Your job is paid for by tax dollars. Your commitment should be to the public. Part of your job as a spokesperson is to answer questions from the press. If you refuse to do so, you are simply stealing tax dollars to serve your own agenda. You should be ashamed of yourself.

Please try being nice in the future. It will make you a happier, healthier person.

Sincerely,
Ramsey Nix
