Thank you Chad. We appreciated your time and the obvious commitment of both companies. I think all are aware of the view of Republic and Exelon but we appreciated hearing it from them. We are moving through the process and will arrive at a sound decision. I look forward to working with you in the future

Kell,

Thank you very much for taking the time to sit down with me and colleagues from Exelon and Republic on July 13. We really appreciate the opportunity to talk to you and your team about West Lake, what we have done to date to the site and where we see the future of the clean-up.

As was mentioned in the meeting, Exelon and Republic both support a cap to the site and are ready to move on that front at any time. We believe that the capping solution protects the public as well as any alternative and can do so in a relatively short time, under 2 years, as opposed to other more complicated solutions (which offer no additional safeguards to the public) that could take 5, 7 or even 10 years. We share the Administrator's goal of relying on sound science and making the agency responsive to public needs, and believe the capping solution does both.

Thanks again to you and your team for sitting down with us. Please do not hesitate to reach out if I can provide any additional information or connect you anyone involved in this effort.

Sincerely,

Chad
