Re: Alice L. Warren, Administratrix v. The Dow Chemical
Company, Union Carbide, et al., C.A. No. 89-30201F

Dear Keith:

Although I strongly disagree with your interpretation of our document requests concerning Mrs. Warren's diary entries, I nevertheless enclose the following in an effort to avoid the unnecessary cost and expense of proceeding with a motion to compel:

1. Defendant Union Carbide Chemicals and Plastics Company, Inc.'s Request for Production of Documents Directed to Plaintiff;
2. Defendant Conoco, Inc.'s Request for Production of Documents Directed to Plaintiff; and
3. Defendant The Dow Chemical Company's Request for Production of Documents Directed to Plaintiff.

Very truly yours,

Susan P. Ritter
