H. W. AMPHLETT
IS NAMED AS
ELKS DEPUTY

Local Publisher Is Named District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler

Horace W. Amphlett, publisher of The Daily Times and past exalted ruler of Sun-Mated Lodge No. 1114, P. O. Box 100, was today made district deputy grand exalted ruler for the bay district. The appointment was made in Philadelphia this morning by Grand Exalted Ruler Charles G. Brown.

Amphlett has long been active in affairs of the Elks lodge. For years he was secretary of the local branch of the order and later he went through the chairs to the office of exalted ruler, which he filled two years ago.

Previous Service

During the time that William M. Abbott of San Francisco was grand exalted ruler, Amphlett acted as his secretary and traveled throughout the entire country, visiting every lodge in the nation. Last year he served on the community welfare committee of the grand lodge.

During his term of office as district deputy grand exalted ruler, Amplett will go to Philadelphia for a conference of all district deputies, which will probably be held next month. During the remainder of his term he will officially visit every lodge in San Mateo, San Francisco, Santa Clara, Alameda, Contra Costa, Marin, Sonoma, Napa, Solano and Humboldt counties.
