in 1966.

He was writing about the dangers of asbestos in newspapers, wasn't he?

A He was trying to get the information out, yes.

Q The plaintiffs, I believe, are going to offer this into evidence, and I don't know if they have yet.

It is Plaintiffs' Exhibit 344. But this is what he was doing. This is the Wall Street Journal and it is March 6, 1966 article.

You have read this before, haven't you?

A Yes.

Q You have seen it?

A Yes, I have.

Q Now, this is after he was starting to do a lot of his studies, and he was reporting the findings of those studies, wasn't he?

A He was starting to report some of his earlier work, yes.

Q The people he was studying were the