Last Salute To Ike

LONDON (AP) — Britain gave a last salute to its wartime commander, Gen.
Dwight D. Eisenhower, in solemn rites at St. Paul's today.

While the Union Jack flew at half-staff over London, a congregation of 3,000 including royalty, soldiers, statesmen and diplomats, gathered under the great dome of St. Christopher Wren's 17th century Anglican cathedral.

Prince Philip, husband of Queen Elizabeth II, was there in the uniform of admiral of the fleet, with Queen Mother Elizabeth in mourning black and pearls.
The queen herself never goes to memorial services, except those involving her immediate family. The one exception was when she went to St. Paul's on Jan.
30, 1965 for the funeral of Sir Winston Churchill.

Party Leaders

Behind the royally kneeling at praying stools of crimson and gold, were Prime Minister Harold
Wilson and the Conservative party opposition opo-nents, Edward Heath.

Lord Avon, better known as Anthony Eden, former Conservative prime minister, sat just behind them.
Most of the governing Labor party Cabinet was there.

But there were absent
faces, too—Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, too frail to attend at 81; Lady Churchill, 84, hospitalized with a broken thigh; and former Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, ill with jaundice.

In Hospital

Macmillan, 75, who entered a hospital today for observation. He had been recovering at home since an acute attack of jaundice
March 29.

The service was organized after criticism that Britain's representation at Eisenhower's Washington
funeral had not been worthy. In Washington,
Adm. Earl Mountbatten,
one of Eisenhower's contemporaries in supreme command in World War II, represented Queen Elizabeth. Defense Minister Denis Healey was there for the Cabinet.

In London, the Archbishop of Canterbury, primate
of the Church of England,
gave the blessing.

Prime Minister Wilson
himself delivered the funeral oration.

April COCA Award

The Old Clock Restaurant on Abrego street in Monterey is the April winner of the Committee on City Appearance (COCA) award of merit for its landscape and architecture. James Stone and Robert Cannon, co-winners, accepted the award from Mrs. W. E. Oberholzer, COCA chairman, during the committee's monthly luncheon. In accepting the award, Stone and Cannon praised Mollie Sumida of Cypress Gardens, who is largely responsible for the landscaping.

Welfare Recipients Picket Home of Black Legislator

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Kershaw had turned his back on his own people. "Most of the people on welfare are Negroes," Mrs. Taylor said. "So when Kershaw talks about moving people off the rolls he is hitting out at us Negroes, his own people. He holed at us yesterday when we came to see him, he insulted us and said we were deadbeats and deadheads."

Rep. Joe Kershaw, D-Miami, first Negro elected to the Florida Legislature since Reconstruction, said "deadbeats" should be stripped from the welfare rolls. He made his remark after about 500 "poor people" marched on the opening session of the legislature Tuesday in Tallahassee.

Kershaw was not home as the pickets, carrying signs that read "Kick Kershaw Out" and "Kershaw Serves Rich People," crunched the grave in front of his home. All but one of the demonstrators were Negroes.

A picket leader, Gladys Taylor, president of a welfare rights organization and leader of the Tallahassee demonstration, said

WASHINGTON (AP)—The enemy's line of supply is being cut off from abroad, mainly from the Soviet Union, South Vietnam has improved in the past year from a visit to South Vietnam, his first since 1967.
Today, but he added that Laos and Thailand are increasingly threatened by Communist infiltration.
The Texas Republican told a news conference he does not see how the United States can reduce its troops in Southeast Asia any time soon.
Although he said he had opposed the bombing halt of last year, he would not now advocate resuming the bombing until it could be determined if the Paris peace talks were fruitful.
Tower also said he felt any peace settlement must include safeguards for Laos and Thailand. He said in the last year, half of Laos has become "Communist-dominated, including the Southern panhandle, which is vital to the military situation in Indochina."

Tower has just returned from the Soviet Union, where he made a visit to South Vietnam, his first since 1967.

He reported that North Vietnam has completely cut off supply lines to Communist forces in Laos and Thailand.
