dilemma which faced them should join together in working out a mutual basis of cooperation for their own rehabilitation and should determine, on a businesslike basis, the degree and character of the outside assistance they calculated would be urgently needed over and above what was humanly possible for them to accomplish for themselves.

We have now reached the point where 16 nations have submitted a preliminary plan, both as to their agreed actions and as to what outside assistance they feel will be necessary in the next four or five years. At the same time our resources have been reviewed in order that no step might be taken which would involve an unwise drain on our economy.

The European plan is now under study by the various agencies of the government concerned and by the special groups which were formed by direction of the President. Certain committees of Congress have planned to meet in a few weeks to consider, first, the measures which may immediately be necessary, and later the proposal soon to be submitted by the government for assistance in the long-range rehabilitation of Europe.

We must face the facts. The Hasty judgments and short-range thinking need to be avoided. Above all things, a regard for the American tradition is required, the typical American readiness to assist those in need of help, to discount vicious propaganda and outrageous criticism, and in the end to seek only, to do what is right, so far as we can determine the right.

Error Links Wrong Man with Entry Attempt

Due to a misunderstanding, a Herald story yesterday identified Edward McCoy as a man apprehended by Texas police recently who confessed to an attempted entry of the Ricketts and Freeman Sport Shop in Carmel some months ago.

McCoy, a Pacific Grove resident, was among several persons drawn into the investigation by police at the time, but was completely exonerated of any connection with the incident. McCoy, a carpenter, had been employed in construction work at the shop a short time before the occurrence and entered the case because of bearing a slight resemblance to the intruder who was seen attempting to climb through the window. The man was frightened away and made his escape.

Essay Contest Winners To Be Selected Tonight

Judges tonight were scheduled to pore over scores of entries in the Monterey Peninsula Navy Day essay contest to decide which high school and elementary school students will receive the two top prizes of $25.

The two top winners and the second, third and fourth place winners in each division will be guests of Capt. Milton E. Miles aboard the cruiser U.S.S. Columbus Sunday noon. They also will be honored at a KDON broadcast at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

Judges are Capt. Frank T. Watkins, commander of the Del Monte postgraduate school; Calvin C. Flint, director of the Monterey Peninsula College, and Mayors Hugh F. Dormody of Monterey, Fred Godwin of Carmel, and W. R. LaPorte of Pacific Grove.
