A Research engineer.

Q What were your duties in '57?

A A portion of my time continued to be doing structural analysis on the unitized body cars, and I did some work on analysis of novel approaches for forming metal.

Q Did your duties in any way change during the entire time that you worked there from '57 to '87?

A Very definitely.

Q When did there come a change with respect to your work there?

A I had a change of assignment to work on various projects, and from the initial work, I started to do some work with automatic clutches, which led to work with automatic transmissions of various configurations.

Q When was the work started that you performed, that you did with respect to automatic clutches?

A That was '59.