Dear Dick:

Since you are better acquainted with the building industry than we, I expect to let you know I was up there last week your opinion on getting an Underwriter's approval for ratings on the .050 asbestos [redacted] on Marinite but forget it in the heat of the second period. From my little knowledge of the Underwriter's laboratories tests, I would gather that we had a material that would stand up well in their testing and might, because of it, find applications much larger than the ships we have been talking about. I'd like your comments on this before proceeding further but feel that if it would not cost too much money, it might be very worth-while.

Before we forget, there are several other items on which we would like some information from you:

a. The results of the physical testing of the .050 asbestos on Marinite that was done for CCNS and Cnz; you will recall that you promised us a copy of this information.

b. The pigments and/or formulations used by Denver Chilem in making the A.C.F. hand-painted murals.

c. An official written approval of the .050 asbestos on Marinite by the Coast Guard if such exists.

Also, Dick, you mentioned when I was up there that the American President Lines will be building a couple of ships soon which will require the use of a wood finish of some type, such as our old Transoil.

PLAINTIFF'S EXHIBIT WH-176

Can you give us any more information about this? Would the old Dremmel be satisfactory if it were still made? Will the Court Ozard requirement of not over .015" of surface apply to this job? Please give us as much information as possible so we can start thinking along those lines and have something suitable when the time comes.

Very truly yours,
