September, 1992

Final Notice!

Dear Industry Colleague:

Time is running out!

Please take a moment to look at the new intensive, management-oriented program we have put together for your 1992 Eastern Region Conference, the new ECON XVIII.

To remind you, the new ECON offers:

- More education sessions to meet the demanding needs of business managers today;
- A revised schedule which allows those of you with busy schedules to attend the business sessions and depart for the weekend;
- We have added a Hospitality Suite, open during conference hours to give spouses a central location to meet old friends and make new ones in a more sociable atmosphere;
- A spouse program designed especially for spouses by other spouses;
- A Special Newcomers' Welcome Reception on Thursday night.

For the business-minded, the expanded program gives more education for the dollar. Unlike many conferences, this conference is not designed as a profit maker... it is designed by our colleagues and competitors exclusively for those of us in the plastics business! The Search for Management Discipline: Cost/Quality/Training/Environment is this year's conference theme. Dive into new manufacturing methods which are demanded by our customers. Come hear the expertise of Ken Leach, Richard Stuckey, Betsy Knight, Dr. Anne Matthews, plus the experiences of your industry colleagues...go home better informed!

For repeaters, the program is different this year-- Friday's sessions are expanded to include a luncheon, speaker and afternoon session. The Sponsors' Dinner, now the formal evening event of the conference, has been changed to Friday night especially for those who want to depart on Saturday. If you have attended in the past, you'll know that we have had "fun" surprise moments...this year, you'll have to work not to laugh! Famed Atlanta comedian Jerry Farber will keep you in stitches after Friday night's dinner.

For the sports-minded, we still offer two opportunities to play golf or tennis: Thursday afternoon is now an optional play day. Both the tennis and golf tournaments will be on Saturday afternoon. An informal, poolside cookout will be held Saturday night for fun, socializing, and prize presentations. A Special Note: The format for the golf tournament has been changed to make it more enjoyable for all levels of player; see attached for details.

And, of course, there's the conference location, location, location: Hilton Head's Westin Hotel at Port Royal is the site for the new ECON XVIII... If you're located in the Carolinas, you can easily bring other members of your staff; see the special discount for extra members from the same company!

Be sure to review the attached conference program for details and fill out the registration form today. Feel free to call Drew Fleming, SPI Regional Manager for more information.

Sincerely,

Gordon Lawry
Chairman, the new ECON XVIII

P.S. Remember, TIME IS RUNNING OUT! Although you may have missed the early registration discount, don't miss the October 1st hotel cutoff date...We have been told that the hotel will sell out! After October 1, contact SPI or Westin for guest room availability.
