Subject: Is Your Research Reaching Enough Readers?

SAE's scholarly journals are the authoritative source for research regarding critical ground vehicle and aerospace topics, including cybersecurity and connected and automated vehicles. Submitting your work to our program is now more convenient and beneficial.

Improvements to our author experience include:

- New peer-review process and industry-standard tracking system Editorial Manager[®] from Aries Systems Corporation

- Web of Science indexing
- Affordable Open Access

Plus, have your work be easily discoverable and visible to 40,000+ SAE MOBILUS® technical resource platform subscribers.

Ensure that your key findings are being published alongside other state-of-the-art research — and reaching more readers instantly.
