NAMF president, sent a letter to builder members last week advising them to cut back on production rather than risk costly price cuts.

Government officials are waiting to see if August housing starts dropped below the annual rate of one million for the first time since December 1951. The report is due in a week to 20 days.

Months of the decline in home construction which has been under way a full year now, is in FHA and VA programs.

FHA applications were all 75 per cent in the first seven months of this year and VA applications were down 20 per cent. Conventional financing, with unassigned interest rates, showed little change.

LAST FIFTEEN

Sites Filled At Foothill Subdivision

Construction has started on the last 16 houses in Foothill Estates, a custom-type subdivision of 41 homes built by F. J. Capra.

John Napier, Jr., of the F. J. and J. Construction Co., said 15 of the new homes have been completed, and he expects to complete the last one in a week. All the other houses are in various stages of construction.

Memberships sold since the house had been great among families spending homes with a country atmosphere. Each of the sites is a third of an acre. The subdivision is on the slope of a hillside overlooking the nearby living little golf course.

All homes have been "roughed in" for air conditioning equipment and Napier said about 10 per cent of the buyers are ordering the complete installation at the time of purchase. Others said they plan to install air conditioning later, possibly next summer.

The house in the entire subdivision is the duplicate of another due to differences in exterior materials and trim. There are four different floor plans. The homes vary from 1,300 to 1,600 square feet and all have either three or four bedrooms, with two bathrooms.
