Dear [REDACTED]

Yes, the list of specific exemptions applies to substances, mixtures and articles that contain PFOA above the specified thresholds.

The Reach Committee has voted on the technical amendment of Annex XVII to REACH, among other things deleting PFOA entry, in July. The act is now under scrutiny by the Council and the Parliament and we expect the adoption in the next couple of months. As you know, the PFOA entry in Annex I of the POPs Regulation applies since 4 July.

Kind regards

Subject: Questions regarding Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2020/784

Dear [REDACTED],

August is almost over and I hope you found time for an extended summer holiday. Can I trouble you again with two questions regarding COMMISSION DELEGATED REGULATION (EU) 2020/784?

Annex, Point 5 addresses derogations listing the substances and purposes. Is it correct to conclude that these derogations apply to substances, mixtures and articles mentioned under Points 1 through 4 containing PFOA and/or PFOA-related substances above the allowed threshold?

By the way, do you happen to have an update when Regulation (EC) No 1907/2006 will be deleted? We are receiving inquiries from customers because they are confused which regulation applies.

Your guidance is very much appreciated.

Best regards,

[REDACTED]
