

November 1, 1960

A. R. Judd, M.D.
PRICE BATTERY CORPORATION
Hamburg, Pennsylvania

Dear Doctor Judd:

The practice of administering any chelating agent as a preventive against lead intoxication is unthinkable and cannot be condemned too strongly. As a physician, I would not want to be guilty of practicing, supporting, or condoning such a procedure.

Enclosed are reprints of two papers that review the subject in greater detail.

Yours truly,

Lee H. Miller, M.D.

LHM:wp

enclosures

KE 0018697