

Strength of Association

- Strength of Association is a reflection of the strength of effect in a given study.
- When evaluating the issue of chrysotile asbestos and its risk of inducing mesothelioma it is important to note:
 - The medical and scientific community universally accepts the proposition that the overwhelming majority of mesotheliomas are caused by exposure to asbestos. (Roggli et al, 2004; Mullen et al, 1991).