1932 INDEX

Volume 1

A

Accident Prevention Equipment Manufacturers' Section: Minutes, 107-110.
Nominating Committee Report, 108.
Officers, 108.
Accident-Prone Employee: See Personal Factors.
Accident Statistics: Length of Service of Injured, 220.
Lessons Learned from Near Accidents (Brydges), 310-311.
Recording and Using Accident Data (Elstun), 360-362.
Unusual Accidents in Car Building (Brand), 272-273.
Unusual Accidents in the Machine Shop Group (Salisbury), 274-275.
Unusual Accidents in the Metals Industry and Lessons to be Learned from Them (Griffith), 273-274.
Accidents—Costs: Accident Costs—A Round Table Discussion (Stearns), 403-404.
The High Cost of Injuries (Magruder), 260-261.
Accidents—Report Forms: Accident Statistics and Costs (Carr), 214-215.
Acids: Safety in Chemical Pumps and Pumping Machinery (Lawrence), 172-173.
See also Chemical Industry.
Adams, G. J.: Report of Committee on Hazards of Inrunning Nips on Paper Machines, 315-322.
Adams, L.: Power Apparatus in Maintenance of Way Work, 428.
Adams, W. W.: Recent Progress of Safety in the Quarry Industries, 382-383.
Advanced Safety Engineering Session, 23-32.
Aeronautical Section: Minutes, 111-118.
Aeronautics: Maintaining Efficient Pilots Through Physical Fitness (Padden), 117-118.
Maintenance A Vital Factor in Safe Operation of Air Transports (Lockwood), 116-117.
Safety Factors in Air Transport and the Adaptation of "Blind Flight" Training to Schedule Airline Operation (Priester), 111-116.
Aishton, R. H.: Address, 411-412.
Alden, E. R.: Psychology and Accidents—Mental Ease During Depressions, 332-333.
A. R. A., Safety Section: See Steam Railroad Section.
A. S. S. E.—Engineering Section: General Chairmen's Report, 128.
Minutes, 119-130.
Nominating Committee Report, 130.
Officers, 130.
Report on Investigation of Accidents With Portable Hand Torches and Plumbers' Furnaces, 128.
Anderson, M.: Accident Prevention for Women Workers, 37-38.
Annual Meeting of Members, 9-19.
Authenrieth, A. J.: Elimination of Hazards in the Engine Room, 391-393.
Automobile Driving: Accident Experience in the Delivery, Taxicab and Bus Section During 1931 (Lundsteadt), 192.
Delivering Food Products Safely by Automobile Trucks (Frost), 231.
Maintenance of the Motor Vehicle and Its Importance in Fleet Safety (Shaw), 199-200.
Methods of Safe Driving (Couchman), 151-152.
The Portland Cement Association's Safe Drivers League (Hamilton), 150.

Preventing Accidents to Public Utility Employees on the Streets and Highways (Prezzano), 362-363.
Safety Among Drivers in Scattered Fleets (Wells), 198-199.
State Regulation of Commercial Vehicles and Their Operators (Hoffman), 196-197.
Successful Fleet Safety Work Without Special Personnel (Ruth), 193-195.
Automobiles: Maintenance of the Motor Vehicle and Its Importance in Fleet Safety (Shaw), 199-200.
Automotive and Machine Shop Section: Joint Session with Power Press Section, 354-356.
Minutes, 131-140.
Nominating Committee Report, 135.
Officers, 135.

B

Back Injuries (Roberts), 71-74.
Banash, J. I.: President's Address, 21-22.
Banquet: 21-22.
Barlow, A.: Textile Safety Kinks and Safe Practices, 446.
Bender, H. D.: Ladder Safety Code, 122-124.
Bennett, F. G.: Health Work in the Small Plant, 49-50.
Unusual Accidents in the Foundry Industry, 271-272.
Bergquist, C. W.: Presentation of Awards in the National Traffic Safety Contest, 193.
President's Address, 9-12.
Bland, J. V.: Maintenance of Power Press Equipment for Safe Operation, 350-351.
Bloomfield, J. J.: Dust Content of the Atmosphere in Various Dusty Industries, 53-57.

 Butterworth, A. B.: Cleaning and Gas-Freeing Cargo Oil Tanks, 240-241.
 Buxton, R. K.: Accident Prevention in the Metal Trades at the Crossroads, 270-271.

C

- Calenders: In Report of Committee on Hazards of Iurunning Nips on Paper Machines (Adams), 318-319, 321.
 Callahan, J. J.: What the Manufacturer of Machinery Can Do to Promote Safety in the Tanning Industry, 254-255.
 Car Building: Unusual Accidents in Car Building (Brand), 272-273.
 Carbon Tetrachloride: Is Carbon Tetrachloride a Health Hazard as Used in the Rubber Industry? (Shirley), 398-402.
 Carr, C. L.: Accident Statistics and Costs, 214-215.
 Carrow, T. H.: Safety Today, 410-411.
 Cement Industry: Analysis of Accidents in the Cement Industry (Curtis), 143-144.
 Good-Will Dividends from Safety Work (Mehren), 15-19.
 In the Wake of the News (Dempster), 145-146.
 Methods of Safe Driving (Couchman), 151-152.
 The Portland Cement Association's Safe Drivers League (Hamilton), 150.
 Safeguarding Our Eyes (Zook), 153-155.
 Safety from the Executive Viewpoint (Poselt), 145.
 Cement Section: General Chairman's Report, 141-142.
 Joint Session with Quarry Section, 152-156.
 Minutes, 141-156.
 Nominating Committee Report, 142-143.
 Officers, 142-143.
 Poster Committee Report, 144.
 Chemical Industry: Accidents and Their Causes in the Chemical Industry (Ralston), 176.
 Activities of the Chemical Industry in Preventing Poisoning from the Viewpoint of the Federal Government (Yant), 166-169.
 Preventing Poisoning—From the Viewpoint of the Chemical Manufacturer (Dennis), 169-170.
 Report of Statistics Committee and Injury Experience in the Chemical Industry during 1931 (Kepner), 158.
 Safe Handling of Chemicals (Watson), 159-160.
 Safety in Chemical Pumps and Pumping Machinery (Lawrence), 172-173.
 Some Causes and Effects of Stream Pollution (Hoskins), 174-175.
 Storage and Handling of Compressed Gases and Volatile Liquids (Fetherston), 160-163.
 The Use of Stainless Steels in the Chemical Industry (Luger and Wright), 173-174. See also Acids.
 Chemical Section: Joint Session with Industrial Health Section, 166-172.
 Minutes, 157-176.
 Statistics Committee Report, 158.
 Claims: For the Defense (Hamilton), 207-208.
 The Relationship Between the Claim Department and the Safety Department (Giltner), 208-211.

 Commercial Vehicles: See Automobile Driving.
 Community Safety: See Public Safety.
 Compressed Gases: Storage and Handling of Compressed Gases and Volatile Liquids (Fetherston), 160-163.
 Conference Plan of Education: See Education of Workmen.
 Construction Industry: Accident Experience in the Construction Industry during 1931 (Forester), 178.
 Accident Reports and How the Insurance Companies Use Them (Dearborn), 189-190.
 American Standards of Safety in the Construction Industry (Smith), 120-122.
 The Bridge and Building Gang (Wood), 430-432.
 Building America's Roads Safely (Walton), 187-189.
 Do Awards to Foremen Stimulate Good Accident Prevention Records? (Piper), 186-187.
 The Extra Gang Problem (Parish), 432-434.
 How to Make the Construction Job Safe (Goldstine), 181-183.
 The Navy and Safety on Its Construction Work (Hall), 183-186.
 Safety Platform for the Construction Industry, 179.
 Construction Section: General Chairman's Report, 177-178.
 Minutes, 177-190.
 Nominating Committee Report, 181.
 Officers, 181.
 Contests: Awards of Rubber Section Trophies, 403.
 Data on the 1931-32 Paper and Pulp Section Contest, 323.
 Effects of Competition on Morale of Employees (Boetsma), 336-337.
 Marine Section Contest Committee Report, 239.
 Marine Section Contest Winners, 250.
 Plan for Inter-Departmental Safety Contest, 311.
 Presentation of Awards in the National Traffic Safety Contest (Bergquist), 193.
 Presentation of Awards to Metals Section Winners, 275-276.
 Public Utilities Section Contest Winners, 207.
 Winner of the National Crushed Stone Association Contest (Miller), 384-385.
 Contusions: Strains, Sprains and Contusions (Kessler), 74-76.
 Cooperation: Cooperation (Schaefer), 404.
 The Cooperative Objectives of the National Safety Council and the Railroad Industry (Young), 407-410.
 Securing the Cooperation of the Worker in Accident Prevention (Kuechenmeister), 351-353.
 Corrosion: The Use of Stainless Steels in the Chemical Industry (Luger and Wright), 173-174.
