LINE: RAYLOC STOPPER PREMIUM

PRODUCT: BRAKE PADS AND SHOES

DIFFERENCES vs PREMIUM: The primary difference is in the friction materials used for the linings. The Rayloc Stopper Premium line includes premium quality asbestos brake pads and shoes p'us a semi-metallic brake pad. This semi-metallic product features competitive pricing. Stopper Premium products are not recommended for fleet and heavy-duty applications.

By comparison, Rayloc's premium brake products, known as Professional Quality Supreme, include a series of semi-metallic disc brake pads and shoes that use organic, non-metallic, non-asbestos friction materials. The premium line also includes a non-asbestos lined brake shoe. These products are application engineered for specific requirements. This feature insures a precision match when replacing OEM parts, maximum pad/shoe contact and faster seating after installation. Tests matching Rayloc Professional Quality Supreme brakes against competitive brands have shown that the Supreme series provides superior stopping distance, lining wear, and fade characteristics.
