Q Is mesothelioma an occupational lung disease, Doctor?

A Yes.

Q Now, during the course of your professional career, have you received any honors or awards?

A Yes.

Q Could you briefly describe them, please.

A Well, I was an Edward Livingston Trudeau Scholar of the American Lung Association nationally.

I received a clinical award from Duke University. I have had awards from the American Heart Association and the American Lung Association.

And I was elected last year to the American Society of Clinical Investigation, which one has to be elected by the membership into that society. And it is limited to 80 scientists per year in all disciplines under the age of 45.

Q Have you ever held office or sat on any committees in any of those organizations?

A Yes, I have sat on a number of committees
