Dear Mr. Cameron,

On behalf of Bloomberg Government and Ernst & Young, LLP, we are honored to invite you to Reengineering Government: Applying Business Expertise to Procurement Reform. At this thought leader dinner, we will convene top business and federal agency leaders for a high-level roundtable conversation analyzing the impact of policy changes on the procurement process.

The dinner will be held December 13 at The Source, located at 575 Pennsylvania Avenue NW, Washington, D.C., and begin with a brief networking cocktail reception at 6:30PM, followed by a seated private dinner.

The discussion will be facilitated by Bloomberg Government Senior Budget Analyst Cameron Leuthy and will explore existing practices and industry expertise that can help agencies more efficiently acquire goods and services in the context of OMB directives. Your insight would bring a unique perspective to the conversation.

A Bloomberg BNA Plus reporter will develop an article from the discussion for publication in partnership with EY. You will have the option to either be quoted on the record, or anonymously on background if you prefer.
