Dear Otto:

This is to inform you that there will be a slight delay in sending you the information you requested on the vinyl chloride cohorts. We have experienced some unforeseen problems, particularly in the South Charleston cohort, which will require a considerable amount of manual effort. However, we will continue to give this project a high priority.

We expect to send you the Texas City data on or around February 15. The South Charleston data should be available about March 10.

I will let you know if there is any change in these target dates. Please call if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

A. Robert Schnatter
Biostatistician
