LEAKY WATER MAINS SURVEY
WILL COST CITY $72,000

The city will spend $72,000 for a survey to find leaky water mains.

Pitometer Associates will perform the survey. The firm has made several similar surveys.

In 1958, leaks were found which saved some 2,235,000 gallons daily and in 1959 and 1960, leaks were found which saved 1,554,000 gallons daily.

This was reported by Bill Sherrill, assistant to Mayor Lewis Cutrer.

City utilities director J. M. Nagle recommended the survey to the mayor Oct. 25. Council got the recommendation Tuesday and approved it.
