G. Reviewed outline of the 1968 regional contractor association presentations (Copy attached).

H. Reviewed future need of increased liason between NIMA and IDCMA, Regional Contractor Organizations, NFIAW, U.S.P.H.S., Independent Contractors and others. Also need to keep NIMA member companies better informed of current developments that could adversely affect their business.

I. Respectfully urged that the NIMA Executive Committee give consideration to establishing a standing committee called "Education, Legislation and Litigation Advisory Committee" to replace the present informally organized "Education Subcommittee". Present circumstances indicate that the need for education, information and communications; especially relating to health, safety, workman's compensation, commonlaw litigation, public hearings, legislation, congressional hearings, etc., will substantially increase in the future.

During the foregoing presentation, a number of the group made the suggestion that a representative of the Public Relations Committee of NIMA sit in on each Education Subcommittee meeting in order to gather information for publication in the IDCMA Newsletter. This suggestion is respectfully rejected due to confidential nature of subjects discussed. We will, however, periodically invite attendance of Public Relations representation and/or prepare suitable material for them.
