To Bob Keller

Kamigafuchi in Japan have apparently poisoned people and chickens with edible oil/ anodes from a leaky heat exchanger system. (I don't see anodes yet)

I would by the proper in the Nation by (a) our testing for anodes in edible oils -

(b) going after the better customs test apparatus.

MEMO TO R. Fowler
FR M. Grogan 12/5

Bill Richard called me re the attached. He has been sitting on this - the recent incident in Japan makes him think we have to move per memo. Please scratch your heads as to approach and plan to meet with me on Dec. 12 at 10:30 in my office to discuss your ideas.
