Last month there were comments to the effect that there was some question on PCB pounds incinerated on a year-to-date basis.

Best information that John Littich has at this time is that the "pounds incinerated" number has been and is correct. It is believed that the remaining 2086M pound inventory for incineration is over-stated. Due to the inclement weather, the plant has been unable to do much in verifying the inventory but as more drums are emptied they should get a better handle on it by the end of this month.

John recognizes that we need a good number on this as soon as they reasonably can get it.
