THE COURT: Go ahead, sir.

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR. BURNS:

Q Mr. Farrell, my name is Scott Burns, and sorry if I am yelling at you, but the jury needs to hear me.

A That is all right.

Q We met at your deposition.

Do you recall testifying at your deposition that it was probably the summer of 1958 when you worked at the cathedral?

A Yes. I said '57 or '58.

Q But you said it was probably 1958 at your deposition?

A I said '57 or '58.

The reason I know, when I went to work for Hampshire in the spring of '56, I worked all that year at the Eastpoint Shopping Center and in January of '58 I was at Sinai Hospital for a little over a year on Rogers Avenue, and that is when it came to my mind it had to be '57.
