Dear Mr. Ziegfeld:

Reports which we have received since our International Contest and Instructor Training Program at Purdue University, August 12th-16th, clearly indicate that this year's program was the best of all conducted so far. The progress made each year has been most encouraging.

We, of course, realize that much of the credit for success must go to organizations like the Lead Industries Association. We fully appreciate your cooperation in furnishing special awards, materials, a judge and an instructor for the contest and course for apprentice instructors. The appearance of veterans like Mr. Borcina and Mr. Yetman each year is a very familiar and welcome sight. We are pleased to know that Mr. Yetman is a member of our organization.

Please express our most sincere appreciation to the officers and members of the Lead Industries Association for their continued interest and cooperation in our efforts to supply the best possible craftsmen for our great industry.

Since our program at Purdue, we have moved to a new location in Washington. You are all most welcome to visit our new general offices and training department at 901 Massachusetts Avenue, N. W.

With best wishes, I am

Very truly yours,

/s/ Peter T. Schoonarm
